Who is YOUR personal, unsung HERO?

You might win one of three Millersville University Store gift cards ($50 each) plus a copy of my book by sharing your unsung hero. It’s simple – submit the entry form after you visit the room dedicated to two of my unsung heroes – my parents, Hilda and David Denenberg. Three honorable mentions will also be awarded a copy of my book.

An unsung, personal hero is an individual (or individuals) who has made your life better! This person is important to you!

Part 1 of the contest:

Answer these five questions by using the QR code or posted signage.

1) My Dad was installed in the South ________________ Athletic Hall of Fame for his amazing three sports athletic career.
2) Two examples in the showcase reveal one my Mom’s favorite pastimes – what was her pastime? ______________
3) My sister Diana is also an unsung hero – when she was a student here at MSC, she was editor-in-chief of the __________.
4) The Diana and Marsha Breast Cancer Awareness Center is being moved to where? ________________________________
5) What do you think is the most interesting “artifact” in this room and why?

Part 2 of the contest

Name your unsung HERO (es) and write an explanation (max. 500 words) about why this person (s) is YOUR PERSONAL, UNSUNG HERO. Remember: this person is not a famous hero – he or she (or they) are YOUR heroes. Attach a photo of your UNSUNG HERO that you will include in the display you create if you win.

I agree this work is my own, and I agree that if I am a winner, I will prepare a display (see examples on shelf by the showcase) of my unsung hero.
