DUANE E. HAGELGANS '98, J.D.

Dr. Duane Hagelgans always puts public safety first. With 30 years of experience in emergency management, he has become an expert on natural and manmade disasters and is continually looked to for his expertise.

He brings all of that knowledge and experience into the classroom as a professor of emergency management and within his duties at the Center for Disaster Research & Education at Millersville University. He also keeps the local community safe as the governor-appointed Emergency Management Coordinator for Millersville Borough and Manor Township, through the Blue Rock Regional Emergency Management Agency, which he formed for the municipalities in 2012. He also serves as the fire commissioner for the Blue Rock Regional Fire District.

Hagelgans worked as a member of the Lancaster City Fire Department while pursuing his undergraduate degree at Millersville University in occupational safety and hygiene management. He graduated in 1998 and continued to serve the fire department and worked with several other volunteer fire and emergency organizations. After retiring from the fire department and earning his juris doctorate at Widener University in 2003, he jumped into two new, exciting careers—as a professor and a public servant.

Hagelgans returned to teach at Millersville University in 2007, where he is currently a newly tenured professor in emergency management, with courses that cover topics including disaster management, terrorism and homeland security. In 2015, he received the distinguished Student Ally of the Year award from the International Association of Emergency Managers-USA (IAEM).

“Dr. Hagelgans’ tireless endeavors to educate, promote public safety and engage students are a clear representation of his dedication to Millersville University and the surrounding community,”

Marianne Souders explained in her nomination of Hagelgans for the Distinguished Alumnus Award. “He enhances the educational experience of his students by involving them in the processes of emergency management within the region. He engages students in assisting with campus safety initiatives; assisting with the writing of emergency operations plans and programs for the University; and conducting training and exercises for the University, the borough and the regional South Central Task Force. His involvement and associations in local and international organizations bring honor to the University and are deserving of accolade.”

HONORARY ALUMNUS AWARD

This award is presented to a living individual (non-MU alumnus) who has performed continuous exemplary service to the University or made significant contributions of time, talent or wealth to the University. (Est. 1993)

JOHN R. WRIGHT JR., PH.D., CSTM, F.ATMAE

Since joining the Millersville community in 1999, Dr. John Wright has been an influential leader in the Department of Applied Engineering, Safety & Technology. After joining the faculty, Wright started the ATMAE Student Chapter, better known as the MU Robotics Team.

In 2001, the team began designing and building robots to compete in multiple national and international competitions. Each robot takes approximately 4,000 man-hours to create, and the team has been successful in winning more than 35 individual awards, including six national championships.

Dr. Mehmet Goksu, professor of physics at Millersville, nominated Wright for the Honorary Alumnus Award. Goksu was a former lead advisor for the MU Robotics team and has seen Wright spend countless hours working with his students. "Dr. Wright is a very considerate, kind and tolerant person, and a strong advocate for diversity and fostering an environment of mutual understanding and support," says Goksu. "He encourages and demonstrates ethical behavior, patience, an integrated view of life, and personal responsibility. He is a true role model to both students and faculty, and is selfless with his time and energy."

In 2015, Wright co-established a new undergraduate degree at Millersville: the automation and intelligent robotics engineering technology (ARET) degree. He is also active in department committees and currently serves as the ARET program coordinator.

Wright's research interests include semi-autonomous and autonomous mobile robotic development and control, industrial robotics/machine vision, humanoid robotics, programmable logic controllers and systems integration. He has published and presented multiple works, and has secured approximately $850,000 in grants and donations to Millersville.

Wright is also a Certified Senior Technology Manager by the Association of Technology, Management and Applied Engineering (ATMAE). Wright has been a part of ATMAE since 1992 and has held multiple positions, from an executive board member to president of multiple divisions within the association. In 2013, ATMAE recognized Wright with the Charles Keith Award, the association's highest honor, recognizing those in the field who have significantly contributed their efforts over a significant period of time towards the development of the association. In 2017, he was named an ATMAE Senior Fellow.

Music arranged by Melzer R. Porter

1. Mill- ers- ville, we sing to thee, Hymns of praise and loy- al- ty.
2. State- ly trees and cam- pus wide, We re- call with thoughts of pride,
3. Hon- or, fame and glo- ry bright, We in- her- it thru thy might.

Sons and daugh- ters staunch and bold, Fol- low 'neath the Black and Gold.
Rip- pling lake and i- vied walls, Mem'-ries of thy class- ic halls.
Scho- lar- ship thy first great aim, Proud- ly still up- hold thy name.

Here we fight for truth and right, Shield and buck- ler ev- er bright.
Forth we march to bring thee fame, Spir- its light and hearts a- flame,
Al- ma Ma- ter, we a- dore, Thy great spir- it ev- er- more.

Rich in truth we'll ev- er be, Mill- ers- ville, we sing to thee.
Hope- ful, faith- ful, earn- est, true, Still thy stand- ards to pur- sue.
Gra- ti- tude and rev- 'rence may, Mill- ers- ville, be thine for aye.
