HIGH SCHOOL TO COLLEGE

What might be some of the differences?

High School vs. College - Work

High School

- Directed: Your time is structured by others.
- You are told what to do.
- You seldom need to read anything more than once, and often listening in class is enough.
- You will usually be told in class what you need to learn from the assigned readings.

College

- Ownership: You manage your own time.
- You are expected to take responsibility for what you do and do not do, choices/decisions have consequences.
- You need to review class notes and textbook material regularly.
- It is up to you to read and understand the assigned material; lectures and assignments proceed from the assumption that you've already done so.

High School vs. College - Teachers

High School

- Teachers approach you if they believe you need assistance.
- Teachers often check your homework.
- Teachers often write information on the board to be copied in your notes.
- High school is a teaching environment, in which you acquire facts and skills.

College

- Professors expect you to initiate contact if you need it.
- Professors may not always check for completed homework, but they presume you can perform the same tasks on a test.
- Professors may lecture nonstop and expect you to identify the important points in your notes.
- College is a learning environment, in which you take responsibility for thinking and applying what you have learned.

DUAL ENROLLMENT STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO:

- Handle all communication themselves. Once you become a dual enrollment student, you become a college student. All correspondence will be with the student or high school guidance counselor/school related official.
- Have social and emotional maturity. Often you will be in classes with a wide range of students. Dual enrollment students will need to have the ability to handle the college environment which may be more challenging (ideals, values, etc.) than the high school classroom.
- Identify if you are having an issue with your course, instructor, assignments, etc. You must be able to handle the issue and communicate it appropriately. Know how to advocate for yourself.

A photograph of a lacrosse game in progress on a green field. Several players in white and dark uniforms are clustered around the goal, with one player in white appearing to be in the process of shooting or passing the ball. The background shows a grassy hill and trees under a clear sky. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent dark layer, and the title text is centered over this layer.

RECORDS AND TRANSCRIPTS

DROPPING AND WITHDRAWING

- Add/Drop: (Jan. 21-Jan. 28)
 - Student removes self before drop deadline, which is usually the first week.
 - Course is not on the transcript.
 - No grade designated.
 - Not counted as an attempt.
- Withdrawal: (Jan. April 4)
 - Student removes self after add/drop deadline
 - Course is listed on the transcript.
 - Grade of “W” is recorded.
 - Counted as an attempt.
 - Submits withdrawal form by the tenth week of classes.

TRANSFERABILITY OF DE COURSES

- College credits earned at Millersville University will follow you!
- If you later apply at MU, those credits will be a part of your official transcript.
- If you do not attend Millersville University, the application of transfer credit to general education, prerequisite, and degree programs will vary at any other institution you might attend.
- There is no difference in credit transfer policies for students who take college coursework as regularly admitted college students versus dual enrollment students.

GRADES AND TRANSCRIPTS

- You may access grades for completed classes through your MAX account.
- For your grades to be released by mail to the school district, you must complete, sign and return the Transcript Request Form (a new form each semester).
- In person requests must be made by the student whose record is being requested and photo ID is required to verify identity.
- The Registrar's Office is not able to provide official transcripts electronically currently.
