

GRADUATE ONLINE TEACHING ENDORSEMENT PROGRAM

This 12-credit online program is among the first in the state approved to deliver the PDE endorsement in Online Teaching. Faculty members for this program are among state and national leaders in online pedagogy and instruction and are also affiliated with Millersville's graduate degree programs in Leadership for Teaching and Learning, Special Education and other education degrees.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Accelerated courses –100% online.
- Credits meet Act 48 requirements.
- Coursework linked to practice.
- Leads to PDE online teaching endorsement.
- Aligned with national online teaching standards.
- Builds on more than 50 years of experience of teacher professional development at the graduate level.
- Affordable tuition rates.

THIS PROGRAM IS FOR . . .

- K-12 educators who want to develop online teaching expertise.
- Classroom teachers already using flipped and hybrid instruction.
- Curriculum supervisors and technology coordinators.
- Current and prospective teachers seeking an edge in the job market.
- Educational administrators and school leaders.
- Community college faculty in online and hybrid programs.

CURRICULUM

- ACTE 630: Current Technology for Online Instruction
- ACTE 632: Online Learning Environments
- ACTE 633: Learners in Online Classrooms
- ACTE 634: Legal and Ethical Issues in Online Education

"My Current Technology for Online Teaching class has been amazing! It has challenged me to ponder education in a new light and recognize the many different aspects of online education. Faculty is very helpful, offering unique viewpoints and always entertaining! It has been a great experience filled with many 'ah-ha' moments!"

– Stephanie Flowers | Computer Science Teacher at Northern York County School District